

"At key stage 1 the pupils have produced a time line using photographs of themselves over the years starting with baby photos and showing how they have changed since. The older pupils visited a farm and saw a ewe having triplets. This was an assisted birth and one lamb had to be resuscitated. The younger children have also seen a baby being bathed by one of the mothers who brought in her young baby."

The SRE schemes of work are prepared and ready to go. Single sex lessons have been incorporated into the programme. We will be starting the programme soon and will then consider purchase of resources. We're using the Channel 4 resource Living and Growing. Consultation for SRE has been provided at all levels of school community - governor meetings were well attended, we viewed resources, raised awareness and they were fully involved with policy development. It's written and agreed and reflects the school's aims and values. Parent have been provided with the opportunity to view SRE resources."

"Our questions are answered in SRE and the key message is "safe sex or no sex". I would like more information about how we might feel after sex. More time should be spent on discussing the emotions involved in relationships."

Year 9 Pupil Richard Lander School 2004

"I love PSHE as it's the one opportunity I get for getting to really know the children rather than just teach them."

"You should respect people's opinions and you shouldn't laugh at them. If it's meant to be funny you're allowed to laugh."
